Clay County Public Health Center
H1N1 Vaccine Available at Many Outlets in the County

Director of Public Health, Gary E. Zaborac wants to remind residents that for the last 6 weeks the Clay County Public Health Center has also been providing H1N1 vaccine to 35 doctor's offices and clinic sites throughout Clay County. According to Mr. Zaborac, "We were extremely pleased by the turnout of 1200 people at the December 15th clinic held at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church in Liberty. This large turnout tells us that many people are still interested in being protected from the H1N1 flu." However the health center director also encourages people to contact their doctor to see if the vaccine is available through their office. Several local pharmacy clinics in Clay County have also been supplied with the vaccine to be given to the public. "These opportunities have been made available so you don't have to wait for the next public clinic" added Zaborac.

The health center has scheduled one more large clinic at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, I-35 and 291 Highway from 2:00-7:00 p.m. on December 22nd. This will be the last large clinic of 2009.
